

- Live international air lessons from Macleans College in Auckland New Zealand
- Specially selected high quality teachers
- Lessons based on the Cambridge International Syllabus
- Subjects include English, Mathematics, Chemistry, Biology and Physics. Other subjects on request
- Daily lessons to maintain a continuity of content
- Highly interactive lessons between the Macleans' teacher and the international students
- An English programme for junior classes is also available
- Beginning in term one 2014
- Cost based on the number of students involved

Macleans College

Live International Lessons

The Head of Chemistry sends a trial lesson to the international class at the Jiangsu Foreign Language School in Suzhou China.

The international class at the Jiangsu School see the Chemistry teacher from Macleans College.